The Department of Philosophy, in consonance with the aim to serve the people of adjacent village of the institution as part of the outreach activities organized a two days program of Awareness on Tobacco- Free Assam in the Katamur village, Changsari Assam. The Campaign-motto of the program was an integral part of another more inclusive theme 'Swachata-Hi-Sewa'. Through door-to-door campaign and meetings in the village faculty and student-volunteers of the NSS Unit Saraighat college helped the villagers aware about the evils related to the practice of consumption of the tobacco products. Elders were encouraged to educate their respective family members and friends to abstain from tobacco use in the day-to-day life.

With the help of the teachers, students of the lower primary school located in the village had been sensitized about the evils of different tobacco related diseases. They took oath not to use tobacco in their life and also agreed to help the existing users abdicate the practice with encouraging and compassionate words.
